Introduction

We aim to ensure everything we do makes these two things great: Jesus and the team. We can't do anything without Jesus, and we trust Him with every part of this ministry. Our ministry works best when our team is unified – we all need to listen in order to understand, generously provide grace and be willing to sacrifice our needs and wants. If you are hearing from Jesus and committed to the team (not just the youth team, but the wider church family that we operate as a part of), then the youth will always get our best.

We haven't forgotten the actual youth! We assume you are on this team because you value youth which is awesome – don't forget that's why you're here – but our youth get our best when we are doing well with Jesus and each other.

This page outlines how our team works best at the most basic level. The rest of this handbook adds to these statements – whether it's procedures, commitments, or policies; it all points back to achieving what is on this page, and to ensuring our team is strong.

Mission Statement - What are we here to do?

Taking hold of the real life that Jesus gives, we grow people who have a passionate concern for our world

Values – How do we achieve our mission?

Fun – we give people a reason to smile

Growth - we have difficult conversations

Excellence – we always prepare for the Queen

Relevance - we speak their language

Encouragement - we champion people

Our Character Hallmarks – What are we like?

We are Jesus first – we don't let that slide for anything!

We are Team Gateway – we're a team in a team – we're part of something bigger!

We value people – in all we do, because that's what Jesus did!

Guiding Principles – How do we treat our Youth?

We welcome everyone into Gateway Youth like family, and protect them like family too

We connect with youth where they are now, not where we wish they were

We invite youth onto a journey to discover Jesus and the real life only He offers

Our Commitment

We are also committed to growing you as a youth team and as individuals. We will provide coaching and training as necessary, along with spiritual and personal growth opportunities. Even these expectations, although they may seem strenuous, prepare you to be the best you can in your future employment, training and personal situations.

On a practical note, we commit to provide advance information about events and your roles as early as we possibly can; dates for the entire year (subject to unforeseen change) will be provided at the start of the year, rosters are provided per term, and team leaders will assign roles as early as possible.

Your Commitment

Being a youth team member is a larger commitment than some other ministries. This reflects the fact that Gateway values young people's care and growth. It takes an 'investment' amount of effort to support young people in the way they deserve.

We value our young people because God values them, and we invest in them because of how God invests in us. Ministry is part of our offering to God and we never expect any 'return' from the youth.

Time

Team members commit for a full year at a time.

In that year, team members are expected to make the following time commitments:

- All Friday night Youth events
- All Recharge team nights
- Camp No Fear and associated team events
- Regular Sunday Worship
- Vision Mornings
- up to 1 hour per week preparation/follow up time
- up to 1.5 hours per month connecting with youth outside regular events
- Additional role-based commitments (i.e. worship practice, planning meetings etc)

We understand that exceptional circumstances requiring you to miss an event will arise from time to time, but we expect that you plan and manage your time to give your best where possible – it should be the exception that you miss a youth event for things like work, assignments, exams or other events.

If you think you may miss a youth event, it is your responsibility to ask the Youth Pastor and inform other relevant team members with plenty of notice – ideally at least a week. In these circumstances we also expect that you would ensure any responsibilities you had for the night were covered and to make your best effort to give what you can (i.e. can you attend for some of the event?).

Youth Team Roles

Your role will vary with your particular gifting and the needs of the team or the needs of a particular night. It is expected that team members bring their best to whatever role is allocated to them on any given night including being well prepared. Volunteers are often needed on the night and we all readily volunteer for any role that we are able to fill.

Often, members of the youth team will feel a tension between filling the practical needs of the event and being personally present for the youth. The reality is that generally you will have time to fulfil your practical roles on the night and still spend some time with youth, but it is important to remember the bigger picture of the team; even if you spend an hour 'separated' from the youth because you are setting up, running, and packing down a game, you have done your part to provide a framework for the entire youth ministry to run and for other team members to connect with young people and their parents.

Our Team Standards

We have standards for team members because both Jesus and a young person's parents or guardians have placed their trust in us to set a great example for their youth. We know that all people are on a journey so if you think that one of these standards might be difficult for you, or you realize you have inadvertently broken one of these standards, simply speak to the Youth Pastor. Our heart is to help grow you towards meeting these standards – not necessarily kick you out of youth!

Our ultimate standard is this: In everything we do, we try to honour God so that we can confidently say "follow my example, as I follow the example of Christ."

1. We are followers of Jesus and we value that personal relationship, so we read or listen to our bible, pray, journal, worship and tithe regularly

We know we can only take our youth where we have been first.

2. We value personal growth.

We are actively working through the Gateway Ministry Pathway and exploring opportunities like other ministry opportunities, Gateway courses, conferences, books and podcasts.

3. We are a team. We fight for unity of Gateway and guard the team like family.

In order to build our church and show our commitment as contributing members of the church family. We don't let offence in. If we have a problem with any other team member, we talk about it straight away, let each other say sorry and move on.

4. We are generous with our time.

We know that nothing impacts a youth more than the gift of our time. We are in contact with our regulars once a week without fail and follow the 'Your 5' system (outlined later in this handbook). We value the team by being on time – consistent lateness tells the rest of the team that you think your time is more important than theirs.

5. We speak positively.
Our words highly value and encourage each other. We speak life into each other and our youth - we see them how God sees them. We share great stories from around our youth group with the team to encourage each other.
6. We value accountability with the leaders above us.
It develops us and develops our relationship with God. We ask for help when we are out of our depth so that we can serve our youth in the best way possible.
7. We honour God through what we do online, and in the things that we talk about with youth, team members and our friends who aren't in the youth team.
The youth can see, are influenced by and remember what we post and discuss, and we want that encounter to have a positive influence.
8. We genuinely, but appropriately, invite the youth into our worlds in order to set an example; "Real Life". We meet youth where their needs are – not out of our needs or hurts.
We seek them out, not wait for them to seek us out. We set an example in how we pray, worship, listen, and encourage at youth, church and privately. We are thermostats - we set the temperature and mood. We don't let that fall to others or circumstances.
9. We avoid any conduct or conversations that could be unhelpful or a negative influence on those for whom we are responsible. We submit all areas of our lives before God and express our faith both privately and to youth, in that light.
Examples include any addictions, smoking, drugs, all forms of sex before marriage, pornography, gambling and any other conduct that might be displeasing to God. We have been entrusted to set an example by how we live.
10. If we drink, we drink responsibly and consider who can see us with alcohol (whether in real life or on social media).
Youth have all sorts of experiences of alcohol that can lead them to make assumptions about our conduct when seen or taken out of context.

Our Child Protection Policies

It is our job to treat all youth with respect, regardless of race, sex, language, religion, background, or disability; and provide a fun, welcoming, and safe environment for children and fellow team members.

These policies are in place to ensure that goal is met and to protect both our youth and our team. These policies are strict, and any breach will be dealt with by the Youth Pastor in consultation with the Gateway Child Safety Team. A first minor breach will, at minimum, result in suspension from the youth team for a period of time. A second minor breach, or a major breach, will, at minimum, result in dismissal from any ministries where you work with children at Gateway.

The policies laid out below include youth ministry specific examples and cover the most common questions and scenarios you will come across in youth ministry. It is not exhaustive. Ask questions if you are unsure of any scenario and be willing to accept guidance from other team members. All effort is made to keep this document up to date, however in the case of a conflict, the Gateway Church Child Safety Policy supersedes the information contained in this document.

Working With Children Checks

All team members must have a current Working with Children's Check. Additionally, any team member joining the team for the first time will complete the new team member application process before they may begin on the youth team, including reading and signing that they have read and understood the Gateway Church Child Safety policy.

Group Sizes

Team members should be bonding and hanging with youth of the same gender only. At no time should you put yourself in a situation where you are alone with a youth of the opposite gender. Ideally, we hang out, coach and mentor youth in pairs at minimum, so that 3 people are present at all times. If one on one time is required, we do it in a public place.

Transport

We transport our youth if needed, however:

- We get parent/carer permission via the Transport form at info.gatewayyouth.online
- We provide our personal contact details to the parent/carer number provided on that form if we haven't already
- As above, at no time are we ever in a car alone with a youth of the opposite gender. We can give lifts to youth of the opposite gender as long as there are 3 or more people in the car for the duration of that trip
- We record every car trip with youth in the car in the youth services database
- We obey the law – we don't endanger the lives of our youths with our driving

Youth Services Database

We enter any intentional in-person contact with our youth in the Youth Services Database including for transport, coaching or other reasons.

Sleepovers

We clear any activity involving sleepovers with the Youth Pastor well prior to the event when possible, for instance if you were organising a Life Group overnighner. This includes in the unusual case of an 'emergency' situation to ensure child safety boundaries are established and clear in that particular scenario.

Physical Touch

As a youth team, it is important to balance the care and positivity of physical touch with guidelines for appropriateness to protect both the youth and team members. Appropriate physical touch can be encouraging, show value and be reassuring but inappropriate physical touch can be extremely damaging, so we must be wise, use good judgement and be open to accept guidance from other team members – as with all our child safety policies.

Beyond the below 'traffic light' examples of physical touch, remember that physical touch should only ever be about meeting the youth's needs, never about how you prefer to be shown value. There is also no expectation that you behave in any way that you find uncomfortable – if you aren't a 'touchy' person, there is no expectation that you provide physical reassurance or encouragement to any youth.

Physical Touch Guidelines:

Green Light – go for it!

High Fives
Dumb Handshakes
Tap on the shoulder

Yellow Light – be careful!

Play fighting
Hugs – the 'side hug' is your best option

Red Light – unacceptable!

Any physical touch should be public
Touching around genitals and face
Youth who avoid physical contact
Youth sitting in your lap

Dating

We don't date or enter into a relationship with anyone of high-school age.

Social Media

We never send friend requests to youth on any social media or gaming platform, although, if we are comfortable, we may accept friend requests. We never pressure youth to add us on any online platform.

The Role of Parents/Guardians

At Gateway Youth we value parents and their role in our youth's lives. We encourage them, support them and respect that they always have the last say in their child's life. If we're unsure about a topic of conversation, or an obviously 'tricky' topic (for instance, that a carer may have a strong opinion on) comes up, we work to make that topic known to parents (either directly or via the Youth Pastor) so that they can approach their child, their way. While we share our experiences when appropriate, we also know that what parents consider appropriate varies greatly, and account for it. We don't pretend to know more than we do – if we're unsure about something, we tell our youth that and seek to learn more via senior leaders.

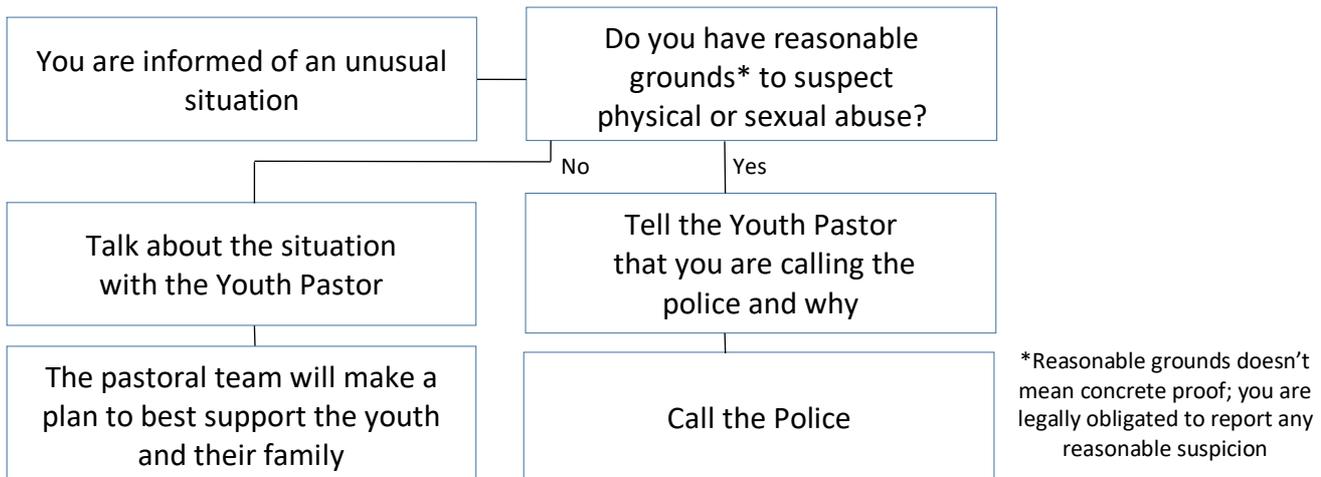

Compulsory Reporting Regarding Youth

Certain information or scenarios involving youth need to be reported to someone. It may only go as far as the pastoral team, or it may be passed on to parents, or in extreme cases we may be required to report it to the relevant authority.

We use the following reporting structure to ensure we respond appropriately to any information we are given in regard to a situation in the life of a youth that is not a part of regular, everyday life – this could be anything from what might seem ‘normal’ such as divorce all the way through to physical or sexual abuse.

We use the idea of “not a part of regular, everyday life” in order to support youth and families through any difficult situations they may face, as well as to trigger follow up for situations that may need to be formally reported. This means that generally it’s not necessary for you to consider the seriousness of the situation; simply err on the side of reporting to the Youth Pastor anything out of the ordinary unless the reporting structure below indicates that you need to contact the police directly – some specific examples are provided below.

As indicated below it is, by law, the responsibility of any adult who has reasonable grounds to suspect physical or sexual abuse directly to the police, but we request that you let the Youth Pastor know in addition to contacting the police – no other advice given by Gateway supersedes the law.

“Not a part of regular, everyday life” Examples

These are some specific examples that should be reported to the Youth pastor immediately which would be passed on to a parent/carer as soon as practical.

Alcohol use	Drug use	Vaping	Smoking
Suicidal thoughts	Illegal behaviour	Self-harm	Physical abuse
Sexual abuse	Emotional abuse	Any abuse experienced or perpetrated

These are some specific examples that should be reported to the Youth pastor for follow up at their discretion or via other avenues.

Family issues	Possible mental illness	Risky behaviours	Out of character choices
---------------	-------------------------	------------------	--------------------------

Compulsory Reporting Regarding Team Members

It is Gateway's responsibility to report any allegations of inappropriate conduct by staff or volunteers to the relevant authorities within 3 days of being made aware of any allegation. This is not limited to staff or volunteers within children's or youth ministry, it applies to any staff member or volunteer. It doesn't even need to have happened at Gateway – our responsibility to report any allegation still stands.

The following 5 categories outline allegations that we are required to report:

- sexual offences (against, with or in the presence of, a child)
- sexual misconduct (against, with or in the presence of, a child)
- physical violence (against, with or in the presence of, a child)
- behaviour that causes significant emotional or psychological harm
- significant neglect

Essentially, if you become aware of any of the above in the life of any staff member or volunteer at Gateway, it is your responsibility to report it to Gateway.

Leadership Structure

Gateway Youth has a leadership structure overlayed on our ‘heart to help wherever we are needed. Our structures don’t exist to create ‘silos’ and we don’t accept ‘not my problem’ attitudes as a result of the structure – we are one team that wins and loses together, but teams need leaders. We encourage investment and ownership of the different parts of Gateway Youth so that they are fulfilled with excellence regardless of your ‘leadership role’.

One part of the structure is the senior team that works with the Youth Pastor on vision and long-term planning. Senior team members are experienced, proven team members who are co-leaders of the ministry with the Youth Pastor.

Another part is team leaders/2ICs who are given additional responsibility to general youth team members in a specific area for a time.

The final part of the structure is our general team members – you are not ‘less than’ anyone else if you don’t have a formal ‘leadership role’ right now – we are one team and we all lead our youth ‘from the pews’!

Our heart is to create opportunities for those members of the team who would like to take on more responsibility and ownership. If you see a role that you might be interested in taking on, or developing into, just ask - and continue to develop in your personal leadership – see the Ministry 101 Pathway for some ideas!

We use our 4 key pillars of youth ministry to loosely shape our leadership structure:

Engagement	Online
How youth move to being connected	How we connect during the week
Discipleship	Team Development
How we grow youth in life and faith	How we grow the team

Each pillar has a few areas of focus

Engagement	Online	Discipleship	Team Development
Invite Events	Youth	Fun Factor	Team Development
Welcoming	Parents	Worship	Team Support
Connecting		Spiritual Growth	Courses
Engaging		Life Groups	MASH

‘Your 5’ system

Gateway Youth’s ‘Your 5’ system is implemented as a way of keeping in touch with the youth in a positive and encouraging way. By taking up the responsibility of keeping in touch with up to 5 youth, our team are able to be a reliable support system in our youth’s lives.

We also provide follow up calls for youth who attend for the first time or who make any sort of commitment at Gateway Youth so that we can reinforce that they have been ‘seen’ and are valued.

‘Your 5’ also extends to supporting the broader team; each senior team member is allocated up to 5 team members, who are in turn allocated up to 5 youth. This allows us to support you as best we can and gives you a direct contact on the senior team.

‘Your 5’ Contact

We stay in contact with ‘our 5’ on 3 levels:

Level 1 – Weekly rapid contact – as simple as a text message to each of your 5 about Friday and asking them how their week is going

Level 2 – Monthly intentional contact – once a month set aside and hour or so to intentionally connect with some of ‘your 5’. For instance, arrange to pick up 2 of them and go to a Macca’s for a thick shake – following the coaching policies outlined later in this document.

Level 3 – Annual investment contact – once a year try to find something you can do for each of ‘your 5’ that is above and beyond. The more you understand their worlds, the easier it will be to figure out what counts; it could be going to their footy match, taking them to the Big Bash, writing them a thoughtful letter or turning up to their birthday party.

New Person Follow Up

In the debrief meeting, new youth information will be handed out to volunteering team members, and a follow up phone call is made to them throughout the next week. If you’d like you can use this as an outline for the call:

1. Introduce yourself and where you are from
2. How did you enjoy youth? (personal point from conversation at youth)
3. Do you need any more information about upcoming events? (I’ll meet you there)

Commitment Follow Up

In the debrief meeting, commitment information may be handed out to volunteering team members, and a follow up phone call is made to them throughout the next week. If you’d like you can use this as an outline for the call:

1. Introduce yourself, where you are from and why you are calling
2. Be excited- how do you feel about that commitment now?
3. How could we best support you? Is there anyone in particular you’d like help from?

Coaching

If you are meeting youth in person, outside of Gateway Youth programs, in any form, even as a one-off, we apply our coaching policies to provide appropriate boundaries.

Depending on who you talk to, the phrases 'coaching' and 'mentoring' are often used interchangeably. Youth in particular are drawn to the phrase mentoring, possibly because it is a phrase often used in schools. At Gateway we have loose definitions that separate the two phrases for discussions and clarity at the team level, however there is generally no need to change the phrase that a participant prefers.

We would say that a coaching relationship is for the general wellbeing of the participant. It mainly revolves around asking great questions that encourage the participant to consider what is going in their lives, more than offer advice. In the same way a basketball coach encourages and guides a team, we coach and encourage people. The coach can be pretty much anyone who is 'further along in life' than the participant and is willing to develop their coaching skills.

We would say that a mentoring relationship is for the development of specific skills/areas in the participants life. It also revolves around great questions, but probably consists of more sharing of advice and experiences in a specific field.

In general, and by these definitions, the youth team is mainly involved with providing coaching. We recommend that all youth team members are being actively coached so as to be setting an example of continuous growth.

Youth coaching standards (non-negotiable)

- Parent/carer must fill out the Coaching Permission form at info.gatewayyouth.online
- You must provide your personal contact details to the parent/carer number provided in that form
- Transport can only be provided as per the transport policy earlier in this document
- Compulsory reporting (as outlined earlier in this document) must be adhered to

Tips for coaching youth

- Ask open ended questions and practice active listening
- Set short and long-term goals, return to these goals regularly
- Ask about how they've been going with God - are they spending time with him?
- Be willing to ask tough questions and genuinely care about the answers
- Don't be too quick to offer advice, or your own experiences unless the participant asks you too (and even then see if you can get them to think about it themselves)
- Don't pretend to have answers that you don't have – it's a better example to seek answers together
- We aren't trained counsellors, so don't try to be! If you feel out of your depth, refer to the youth pastor.

Example coaching session outline

- How has your week been? What's a high and a low and why?
- Ask about their interests (e.g. How did your basketball game go on Tuesday?)
- How have you been spending time with God lately? Why?
- What's a goal you want to achieve next week? (School related, God related, etc)
- What's a goal you want to achieve next month/term/year? Why?
- How can I help with these goals?
- Have something to share/read together?
- Is there anything else you really wanted to talk about today?
- Organise another catch up time
- Remember (write it down if you need to) some key points from the conversation

Training and support

At Gateway Youth, we develop and train people for ministry – it’s one of our core pillars of ministry. Besides, youth ministry can be tough, so being skilled up and knowing you have a support team is important – we value being life-long learners.

Recharge

Approximately once a month on a Wednesday evening we have compulsory team Recharge events. We supply dinner, training, spiritual enrichment and time together in support groups – this is your opportunity to learn, be refreshed and get support for whatever you are facing.

DYMU

We provide free access to the Download Youth Ministry University training courses. While we don’t require returning youth team to participate in this online training, it’s strongly encouraged that you work through it. We do celebrate those who make an effort in this area though! The courses consist of short (~10mins each) videos followed by a handful of questions (which, when prompted, you need to enter the email address “sing@gateway.asn.au” so that we know when you’ve completed a module). They’re fast, fun, and practical!

Other Courses

We encourage team members to engage with other learning opportunities around Gateway. We use the Gateway Ministry Pathway to identify opportunities for you to grow your leadership and do our best to present you with relevant opportunities when they come up.

Support

Although our team is large, supporting you is incredibly important to us – it’s as simple as this: no matter what is going on, members of the senior team and the Youth Pastor are available to support you. Whether it’s just listening, providing advice or experience, we are here for you.

New Team Members

We love new team members – fresh faces keep us young and keep the energy up in the team! We want you to have the best start possible, so new team members are allocated an experienced youth team mentor when you begin. We also require you to have finished the ‘101’ portion of training in the DYMU program by the end of term 1.

Activity planner and risk assessment

Why?

Risk assessments are done to minimise the risks that youth and team are exposed to. Most activities that we carry out in daily life involve an element of risk so it is an unattainable goal to remove risk completely but by carrying out risk assessments we can remove or reduce unnecessary risk.

How?

We have risk assessments for nearly every aspect of programs that involve children at Gateway. The most common type of risk assessment you might come across with your involvement in the team will be for a particular activity that you are creating and/or running.

We use an activity planner with integrated Risk Assessment for this purpose. The activity planner also allows re-use of activities, easier handover of games when necessary and ensures all relevant team members can have an understanding of how the activity should run.

Activity planners are checked by the Child Safety Officer – it's necessary to have a clear and concise explanation of the activity, not so that they can change your activity necessarily, but so that they can understand the nature of the activity and ensure the appropriate risks have been assessed. The planner also clarifies information such as the materials you require, how to set up, how to explain the objective, rules and so on.

When?

In regular circumstances, activity planners are due to the Youth Pastor and Child Safety Officer no later than one week before the activity is due to run. This allows time for necessary changes without impacting activities at the last second. It also allows these people time to fit reading and responding to you into their normal duties.

We understand that sometimes circumstances may result in activity planners being submitted later than this deadline however it is unacceptable for this to become a habit – it shows a lack of honour towards people's time and more importantly, their safety.

Reimbursement policy

From time to time you may need to make some purchases for the youth ministry. It's important that these are authorised by the relevant team leader or the Youth Pastor before the purchase is made. Life Group food reimbursements are provided at Life Groups from the takings for the night.

For other events, if the amount is over $25. It generally goes through the finance department which can take up to 10 days – provide your receipt to the Youth Pastor for reimbursement. If the amount is under $25 you need to obtain your reimbursement by providing receipts to the canteen at a House Party Night. We will make any reasonable, authorised, reimbursement requested, but if it is for a small amount and you're in a position to consider it an extra contribution to the church (rather than request a reimbursement), we encourage you to do that.

Example activity planner

Note the detail included in each section – in particular scoring, materials and personnel. Try to include everything you can think of, it may help to visualise yourself setting up, running the activity and packing it up. Consider the people you will need at each stage for each thing you have listed under setup, how to play and rules – have you considered people to referee the rules/objectives? Try to read the planner from the perspective of someone who only has this to go on, is it clear enough to picture how the activity should run? If a team member read out the objective, how to play and rules sections, would the activity be fully explained to the youth?

Planning checklists

Why?

These checklists ensure that the person responsible for a particular Gateway Youth event can be confident that they have covered all the basic needs for the night ranging all the way from macro items like 'does it meet our desired outcomes and values' to more micro items like 'have you considered food intolerances'.

Using these checklists ensure that all of our events meets our desired outcomes and are executed with excellence. It important that these checklists are considered at the earliest stage of planning if they are to help make the event easier to plan – they don't exist as a hurdle to get out of the way when planning an event, rather we need to think of them as a tool to help plan the event more effectively.

How?

It really is as simple as thinking about items and ticking off the checklist. Some items may not be as critical for a particular event and therefore require no action – but by using the list we know we have considered the basics and avoided any easily avoided mistakes.

We have three checklists that are similar but have some changes to suit our three main types of event; House Party, Life Groups and offsite events.

You can use and submit a paper form, but we also have similar checklists available digitally for each event – speak to your senior team member if you think you need to fill one in.

When?

In regular circumstances, checklists are due to the Youth Pastor no later than one week before the event is due to run. This allows time for necessary changes without impacting events at the last second.

We understand and that sometimes circumstances may result in checklists being submitted later than this deadline however it is unacceptable for this to become a habit – it shows a lack of honour towards people's time and a lack of desire for our events to be run with excellence.

However, in practice it is better to bring even an incomplete checklist to the attention of the Youth Pastor at any time to facilitate discussion and so that they can help with areas you may be finding challenging.

Child Safe Code of Conduct Gateway Church (Australia) Limited

From beginning to end, God speaks about the importance of children through the Bible. In Luke chapter 9, verse 48, Jesus says “See this little one? Whoever welcomes a little child in My name welcomes Me. And whoever welcomes Me welcomes the One who sent Me. The smallest one among you is therefore the greatest”. As Gateway Leaders, one way that we show honour to God, is to respect and protect the most defenseless members of our community.

As such, Gateway’s volunteers and leaders will:

- treat all children with respect, regardless of race, sex, language, religion, background, or disability;
- provide a fun, welcoming, and safe environment for children and fellow leaders;
- respect the role of parents and guardians, and keep open communication with them on any concerns, activities, events, and interactions with the child;
- set a great example of an effective Christian life, in line with Gateway’s values (fun, growth, encouragement, relevance, and excellence), and any extra guidelines of their ministry or the activity a child is involved in;
- plan mentoring sessions and catch ups with children in public places, or where a second adult is present, and be transparent with parents and guardians about plans and location;
- be responsible and accountable for their behaviour towards children, and its consequences;
- ensure photos, video, and approved social media posts present children in a respectful way, and are an honest representation of the environment; and
- report any concerns - no matter how slight – about a child’s welfare, wellbeing, or safety to ministry leaders, Police, or other relevant authority.

Gateway’s volunteers and leaders will never:

- bully, shame, humiliate, belittle, or degrade a child;
- act in a way that shows favouritism or discrimination;
- use offensive, inappropriate or discriminatory language when speaking to, or around a child, their parents and guardians, or a fellow leader;
- help a child with personal care (such as bathing, toileting, or changing clothes), unless a designated support worker, carer or aide;
- share a room with a sleeping child unless a third person would be present at all times;
- be alone in a vehicle with a child of the opposite gender, and avoid situations where the leader is alone in a vehicle with a single child of the same gender; (Youth team members must register in the lifts database every time they drive a Youth)
- behave provocatively, or inappropriately in front of a child;
- develop a romantic or physical relationship with a child;
- hold, cuddle, kiss, or touch a child inappropriately, unnecessarily or culturally insensitively;
- discipline a child by smacking, hitting, physically assaulting a child, or any other unsafe or abusive way; or
- use a child for unpaid or cheap labour.

Child Protection Policy Gateway Church (Australia) Limited

1. Definitions

In this policy, the following definitions apply:

Child/children: any person under the age of 18, or a person between the ages of 18 and 19 who has been signed into a Gateway program as a participant by a parent or guardian.

Gateway: any churches, ministries, programs – including overseas programs – run by Gateway Church (Australia) Limited, regardless of state or country of operation.

Staff: any Pastors, paid staff, lay leaders, volunteers, interns, consultants, guests, contractors, donors, or sponsors of Gateway or its associated ministries.

Gateway Leadership: the Senior Pastor, Campus Lead Pastor, Campus Executive Pastor, or any member of the Gateway Church (Australia) Board

Child abuse: intentional harm inflicted on a child. This may take many forms including:

Physical Abuse: Any punishments and physical contact to children like hitting, beating including with a stick or other implement, poisoning, shaking and smothering or forcing the child to work in an unsafe way/environment. These are things that deliberately and negatively affect the physical well-being of children.

Mental Abuse: Any actions (gestures, words and behaviour) that deliberately affect a child's mental/emotional well-being, for example by bullying them, making them afraid, anxious, annoyed or discouraged.

Neglect: Any actions that deliberately neglect to provide the basic needs of a child, including basic health care, supervision, nutrition, education, emotional nurture, and safe housing.

Sexual Abuse: Any actions with sexual intent towards children including – but not limited to - touching children's genitals, forcing child to watch or take part in pornography, using sexualised language, or coercing the child to have sex.

2. Principles

- 2.1. Gateway is committed to the welfare and rights of children. All children under the care of Gateway will be treated with respect regardless of race, colour, sex, language, religion or belief, political or other opinion, ethnic or social origin, disability, birth or other status.
- 2.2. Gateway's staff will familiarise themselves with this policy, and the guidelines of any Gateway ministries they work in. This both protects children, staff, and volunteers, and provides a safe environment for everyone involved in Gateway ministries and events.
- 2.3. Gateway will adopt best practice policies and approaches to avoid any form of child abuse, and comply with all relevant local legislation on child rights and welfare in order to provide what is in the best interests of the child. This includes mandatory reporting to appropriate authorities including Police, and state child welfare organisations or the commission for children and young people.
- 2.4. Gateway staff will give respect and dignity to all children in their care. Children's leaders are encouraged to be good role models and child focussed ministries will provide additional guidelines on appropriate conduct for their ministry environment.

3. Communication and education:

- 3.1. Gateway is committed to educating its staff and volunteers about the importance of child protection so that children are protected from abuse.
- 3.2. Gateway actively encourages the development of child protection guidelines that further extend this policy in each ministry area, including in all overseas operations.
- 3.3. This policy will be reviewed every two years and any ministry guidelines will be updated accordingly.
- 3.4. Gateway staff will receive initial training on this policy and any ministry guidelines that apply to them on commencement with a ministry area that works with children.

4. Behavioural Protocols:

- 4.1. All staff are expected to treat all children and other staff with respect and dignity. Inappropriate, harassing, abusive, sexually provocative or demeaning language or behaviour towards children will not be tolerated.
- 4.2. All staff working in a ministry focussed on children must sign a statement to say that they have read the Child Safety Code of Conduct, and any associated ministry guidelines, will respect and follow them, and understand that action will be taken in cases of inappropriate behaviour, which may include suspension of their involvement in an activity, termination of their role, and Police or other government agency involvement.
- 4.3. Each ministry that works with children will have guidelines on what forms of discipline can be used, encouraging primarily verbal discipline and withdrawal of privileges. Discipline will not involve any form of corporal punishment.
- 4.4. Whenever possible, there should always be two adults in a room when working in the proximity of children.

- 4.5. Sleeping close to unsupervised children will not be allowed unless a third person would be present at all times.
- 4.6. No child will be engaged in any form of sexual activities or acts. Adults will always be responsible for their own behaviour and cannot blame the child regardless of the child's behaviours.
- 4.7. Gateway's computers, network (including wifi), mobile phones, video and digital cameras will be used appropriately, and will not be used to exploit or harass children or to access or produce child pornography through any medium.
- 4.8. If this policy is not followed, the Police will be immediately notified of the issue if appropriate, and the adult involved will be disciplined and may lose their role or volunteer position.
- 4.9. Gateway staff are required to bring any concerns of children's distress, abuse or potential abuse within the organisation, to their ministry leaders.

5. Recruitment and Screening

- 5.1. Following the correct recruitment and screening process is equally important for staff, and any other person who may intermittently be working with or around children.
- 5.2. Any person involved with children (regardless of the duration of the activity) will require a Working with Children Check (WWCC) and will ensure that Gateway is added as a business prior to commencement of working with children. Failure to provide proof of a WWCC, or a negative outcome on a WWCC will mean the person is not to be involved in any child-related activity.
- 5.3. All Gateway staff are required to have a current WWCC check as a condition of their employment. A negative outcome will be grounds for termination.
- 5.4. Ongoing volunteers for a ministry focussed on children will complete additional stages of assessment for suitability, which include:
 - a) Completion of an application form, including name, date of birth, occupation, and previous experience working with children;
 - b) WWCC details; and
 - c) Provision of two referees, at least one of which is outside of Gateway. If the applicant has previous experience working with children, referees from these roles prioritised as contacts.
- 5.5. Referees should be given an opportunity to express concerns that they may not be happy to put in writing.
- 5.6. Referees should be specifically asked if there have been any formal or informal complaints or investigations against the applicant, regarding children.
- 5.7. Referees should be specifically asked if they would again involve the applicant in a child-focussed program.
6. Any failure to comply with the requirements of this policy (such as not maintaining a current Working with Children Check, or not attending re-training) will result in the staff member being unable to continue in their role until they have met the requirements.

7. Responses to Allegations

- 7.1. Any Gateway staff member should immediately notify their ministry leaders of any of the following situations:
 - a) allegation or reasonable belief that a child is being physically, or sexually abused by a parent, caregiver, guardian, or Gateway staff;
 - b) allegation or reasonable belief that a child is in an inappropriate relationship with any other adult; or
 - c) allegation or reasonable belief of a romantic or sexual relationship or sexually related contact between a child and a Gateway staff member.
- 7.2. Ministry leaders are mandated to report child sexual abuse concerns directly to the Police. There will be no repercussions for any Gateway staff for doing so.
- 7.3. Gateway staff who are designated mandatory reporters due to their professional duties should report any child welfare issues in accordance with the reporting requirements for their role and in their state. There will be no repercussions for any Gateway staff for complying with these requirements.
- 7.4. Where a ministry leader has been informed of a situation outlined in 7.1 or any other similar situation of concern or inappropriate behaviour towards a child, the ministry leader will report this to the Campus Lead Pastor at the earliest possible opportunity.
- 7.5. Following on from 7.4, the Campus Lead Pastor or Risk Management Officer will then notify the Gateway Leadership Board, who will designate a person to take responsibility for the investigation and provide recommendations for appropriate actions. In these situations, the designated investigator will ensure the following:
 - a. Both child and the adult involved will be treated with respect from the start of the process to the end.
 - b. Any external advice is sought or organisations notified as necessary. This may include engaging legal advisors, or any other organisations with relevant experience, or notification of police, insurers, or appropriate agencies. These approaches will only be made under the strictest confidence, bearing in mind the sensitivity of the situation.
 - c. Designate a person (ordinarily the Campus Lead Pastor) to liaise with the media and the Police.
 - d. Any conversations with the child will take place with a parent or guardian present at all times.
 - e. Records should be made of all facts, conversations, or other evidence related to the investigation and these should be carefully and confidentially filed.
 - f. The relevant Embassy should be informed if a foreigner is involved.
 - g. At the conclusion of the investigation, the report and recommendations of the investigator will be presented to the Gateway Leadership Board in an extraordinary Gateway Leadership Board meeting. Their deliberations and decisions on recommended actions are to be fully documented in the Minutes of the meeting.
 - h. Gateway may turn over any records associated with an investigation to police, state child protection services, or any other organisation as legally required.

- i. Gateway will advise organisations seeking a reference for a person who has been subject to an investigation of child abuse or inappropriate behaviour that an investigation has occurred, and the findings of that investigation.

8. Use of children's images and personal information for promotion, fundraising and development education

When photographing or filming a child for work related purposes, Gateway staff must:

- assess and endeavour to comply with local traditions or restrictions for reproducing personal images before photographing or filming a child;
- obtain consent from the child, or a parent/guardian of the child, including an explanation of how the photograph or film will be used;
- ensure photographs, films, videos and DVDs present children in a dignified and respectful manner and not in a vulnerable or submissive manner. Ensure images are honest representations of the context and the facts; and
- ensure storage or transmission of film, photographs and other media meets the requirements of the Privacy Act, or any other appropriate local laws.
